

THE RECIPROCITY DEBATE DRAGS ON

H. H. MILLER, OF SOUTH GREY,
ABLY DEFENDS NEW TARIFF MEASURE.

Ottawa, March 9.—Today was another day of long speeches in the Commons on the new tariff measure. In the morning, a few preliminary had been disposed of by H. H. Miller, Liberal member for South Grey, who moved the adjournment on Wednesday night, resumed the debate and spoke for two hours. He was followed with a three-hour speech and the rest of the time till adjournment shortly before midnight was occupied by D. D. MacKenzie of Ontario, who will continue his journey and will continue his speech on Monday. The debate follows the usual lines, but there has been against reduction.

Opposition Agreement.

A. E. O'Connor, of Kootenay, R. C., in opposing the measure, said the reason the Government had for entering into it was plain. There was a country caused by the Government forcing upon the country the naval blockade, which had been sprung upon the Pacific and he had hurried Mr. Fielding and Mr. Patterson to get something which would divert the people's minds from the naval blockade and free men to Nova Scotia, free bay and port to Quebec, to Ontario they could then have had their own industry, they might have had the manufacturers more than they had, to the naval blockade, he continued.

"I suppose you don't mind so much if I say that the statement was incorrect and proceeded, to explain what I mean. I am referring to any further interruption. The deponent ruled that Mr. Lennox had no right to comment a moment or a statement made by another member of the House without the consent of the speaker." The deponent ruled that Mr. Lennox had no right to object to a motion, and all other observations of his own Mr. Lennox then spoke up. He mentioned Mr. McPherson. The opposition member did not dare to leave over the House and the incident closed.

German Arrived Too Late.

W. G. Holland, Wellington, on a question of privilege, asked if the debate had been taken by surprise by last night's division and did not arrive at the House in time to record his vote. If he had been late, he said, he would have voted for Mr. Borden's amendment, but that after consideration of the reciprocity bill, he concluded that the members had been given an opportunity of expressing their views on the subject. The amendment was created with Opposition cheer.

The deponent asked if the Government had made any effort to get to the reported expression of opinion on the West by Mr. Armstrong, a member of the technical committee that British songs such as "Rule Britannia" would not sing in the schools which children of the United States settlers attended. He added that such a gentleman was not fit for consideration.

The Premier said no inquiries had been made, and that Mr. Macdonald remarked that it was necessary of what Mr. Armstrong had said were not correct.

Posses of Commodities.

There was a little breeze over the question of information regarding war and price control in Canada. Mr. Borden has asked that information be given the members sitting in the House by the Standing Senate Committee. He reported that it was necessary in order to discuss the reciprocity agreement intelligently.

Mr. Fielding said such information had been given him by the Standing Senate Committee, and the Department of War had been published some time ago.

H. H. Miller, South Grey, who moved the adjournment of the debate on the reciprocity bill, requested that the resumption of the debate be adjourned until the 17th, when he said that the agreement, when it goes into effect, will be binding on both countries in both Canada and the United States. He quoted statistics showing the export of the United States in cattle, beef, wheat, butter and other products of the soil, and said that the same will soon be at the vanishing point.

He also quoted from a lecture by Prof. J. M. Linton, University of Alberta, predicting that the time will come in the not very distant future when the balance of trade on the American seaboard will stand on end, and that the United States people will be looking to Canada for supplies, and the necessities of life. Mr. Miller argued that his predictions are to come true, but that the time when the middle class will remain permanent thing and come when the day comes when Canada's present position will increase by one hundredfold, we will be very glad to have a big American market.

The member for South Grey then dealt with the declaration of Mr. Miller that the agreement would make the Canadian market the best in the world of Chicago. There was a time when the middle class might have been dependent on the backyard of the manufacturing Atlantic coast, but not now.

For these states have farmed land of the middle states increased to 100 per cent from five to hundred per cent. Including those which have large manufacturing centres. In his argument he said that fine results are accomplished in the Canadian West, there is no force left in the argument of the member for Strathcona.

Mr. Miller ridiculed the idea that the agreement would not benefit Canada materially. He said that the opinion of Sir William Van Horne, he would quote the opinion of Thomas Fortune, as an authority, that the Canadian West, who said that on the whole the agreement would be advantageous to Canada.

Money to Make Public Opinion.

The opponents of the agreement, Mr. Miller said, had by organization and their spending of money created a certain amount of public opinion against it but it would not last. The Masey Harris Company invested several millions earned in Canada in the manufacture of tractors in the United States.

Discussing the recent visit of Mr. Miller, he was warranted in saying that the Massey Harris Company invested several millions earned in Canada in the manufacture of tractors in the United States.

Touching on the attitude of the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Miller, he said that he would continue his speech on Monday. The debate follows the usual lines, but there has been against reduction.
